

Established A.D. 1802.

F.J. Kingsbury, PRESIDENT.
C.D. Goss, TREASURER.
M.L. Sperry, SECRETARY.

DEPOTS:
423 BROOME ST., NEW YORK.
183 LAKE ST., CHICAGO.

The Scovill Mfg. Company.

10070

Waterbury, Conn. October 15, 1890

H. H. Cobb, Acting Supt., U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir-

I have your esteemed favor of Oct. 13th, and am glad to note that business is lively at the Mint, as well as it is here with us. I have already made arrangements which will, after a few days, materially increase the supply of bronze blanks. I think we can do this, and still keep along with about the same quantity of the nickel which we have been shipping. We shall try to do it at least. In order to do this, we shall have to run a portion of our works over time, but I am willing to do this, to accomodate our friends. The general rush of fall business and getting ready for the holidays, etc., is now upon us, and all our mills and cutting up shops are running their full capacity, but we shall hold ourselves in readiness to take care of your work every time. I do not know whether you have any appropriation which you could use for the purpose of paying expressage or not, but if any shipment by freight should be delayed so as to seriously interfere with your work, we could readily make a shipment by express any night and land the blanks at the Mint early next morning.

Yours truly,

Scovill Mfg. Co.

C. D. Goss
Treas.

[NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 165]

The Scovill Mfg. Company
Waterbury, Conn.
October 15, 1890
10070

H.H. Cobb, Acting Supt., U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir: -

I have your esteemed favor of Oct. 13th, and am glad to note that business is lively at the Mint, as well as it is here with us. I have already made arrangements which will, after a few days, materially increase the supply of bronze blanks. I think we can do this, and still keep along with about the same quantity of the nickel which we have been shipping. We shall try to do it at least. In order to do this, we shall have to run a portion of our works over time, but I am will to do this, to accommodate our friends. The general rush of fall business and getting ready for the holidays, etc., is now upon us, and all our mills and cutting up shops and running their fully capacity, but we shall hold ourselves in readiness to take care of your work every time. I do not know whether you have any appropriation which you could use for the purpose of paying expressage or not, but if any shipment by freight should be delayed so as to seriously interfere with your work, we could readily make a shipment by express any night and land the blanks at the Mint early next morning.

Yours truly,
Scovill Mfg. Co.
D.P. Goss
Treasurer